

Looking to put your financial services expertise to use? Want to be part of a vibrant, growing organization? You've come to the right place.

CG's greatest strength is the knowledge and experience of our employees. We hire the best business and technology minds in the industry and give them exceptional opportunities to grow.

Employee Spotlight

“At a firm this size, you get a lot of exposure – to the leadership team, your colleagues, your clients. It's not a massive firm where you are just a number. People know who you are.”

Stephanie, Senior Consultant

Why Work for CG?

Our people really like working here. In fact, more than half of our new employees are personally referred by current employees. Here are just a few reasons why CG is a great place to work:

You Work with Financial Services Leaders

CG's clients include four of the five largest financial institutions in the USA and five of the ten largest financial institutions in the world. Our consultants are energized by working with companies that drive the global economy – and by helping them solve their most complex business and technology challenges.

You Can Make a Big Impact – Right Away

CG is a growing firm with an entrepreneurial culture that permeates every corner of the company. From the first day on the job, every employee is encouraged to – and recognized for – contributing to the business. We reward outstanding performance – whether it's bringing in new projects and recruiting top talent or spearheading innovative training programs and pioneering creative approaches to working with clients.

You Are the Architect of Your Career

We provide employees with opportunities to grow and succeed, give them control over their CG destinies, and support their interests outside of work. Our talent management infrastructure ensures that employees are put in roles where they can flourish. We customize the development and mentoring employees need to meet their aspirations.

Employee Spotlight

“People here are as serious about their families as they are about business.”

Parshant, Director

You Are Surrounded by Good Company

Our consultants have worked in the financial services sector for most, if not all of their careers. So when you join CG, you're joining a team of professionals who are at the top of their game. CG employees are able to augment their own experience by tapping the collective wisdom of seasoned colleagues, who have worked their way up through the industry.

You Have Flexible Travel Opportunities

CG is dedicated to providing opportunities to work for the world's leading financial services organizations with limited travel. We strive to preserve our employees' work-life balance and know that manageable travel is key to this equation. We minimize travel whenever possible because we believe it is more productive for our consultants – and more cost-effective for our clients.

You Are Truly Appreciated

We do the right thing for our employees. We foster a caring environment for employees and pull together to support employees during trying times, both at and outside of work. We set high, but realistic expectations, keep our promises, and live up to our obligations.

Who's a Good Fit?

Is CG right for you? Perhaps the best way to answer that question is to describe our current team. CG is made of a diverse group of industry veterans who have been around the block – and have generated results for a varied roster of financial services organizations. Yet, we are fueled by a collective spark and share a common set of attributes:

We're Reliable

You can count on us to do to the right thing, in all its forms. That means going the extra mile for clients. It also means preserving a corporate culture that rewards employees' success and provides support when they face challenges. And it means pitching in to boost the communities where we live and work through team service projects and financial support to local charitable organizations.

We're Collaborative

We follow our instinct to work in partnership with clients and help them break down the silos that impede their businesses. Internally, we practice what we preach by constantly tapping the insight of our peers to inform our decisions.

We Put Our Clients First

We care deeply about helping our clients succeed. We do whatever it takes to help them meet tight deadlines, solve critical problems, and plan for challenges that may lurk around the corner.

We are Entrepreneurs at Heart

CG hires people who get a kick out of building something new. In addition to excelling at their roles, our employees want to play an important part in driving the growth of the firm.

We're High Energy

Our business moves fast. And our employees have the dedication to drive success on simultaneous fronts – for clients, for the company, for the community, and for themselves.
